

Public Employees Have a Right to a Safe & Healthful Workplace

The Oklahoma Occupational Health & Safety Standards Act of 1970 provides job safety and health protection for public workers. Rules have been adopted which include both employer and employee responsibilities. These include state, county, city and public school agencies and certain public trusts.

Responsibility of Employers

Public employers are responsible for workplace safety and health of employees. This includes written programs, processes and training.

Responsibility of Employees

Employees are responsible for following safety and health rules. This includes using equipment and personal protective devices properly.

Unsafe Equipment and/or Procedures

You have the right to bring unsafe equipment and/or procedures to the attention of a supervisor or the designated safety officer.

Adverse Action Remedy

You have the right to file a complaint with the Oklahoma Department of Labor for any adverse action taken against you for reporting hazards.

Employees' Right to File Complaint

You have the right to file a complaint with the Oklahoma Department of Labor concerning investigations of unsafe working conditions.

Employee's Right to View Certain Records

You have the right to view certain records regarding workplace injuries, illnesses, or fatalities for your agency. A summary of this information must be posted at your work site each year from February through April.

Employees' Right to View Their Files

You have the right to view or make copies of your medical records or records of your exposure to toxic and harmful substances or conditions.
